

Wild Boy

York Class worked on a literacy project recently called "Books About Town for Schools." It was sponsored by the National Literacy Trust and required us to read, study and write about a novel set in London. The book we read was Wild Boy by Rob Lloyd-Jones. Another part of the project was to create a bench (in the shape of a book) in the style of the book we read. We had lots of fun putting it together and you can see it in the school's entrance.

Summer Fair

Planning is well underway for this year's summer fair, which will be held on Thursday 25th June at 3:30pm. If you like to get involved, please see Miss Davis.

Big week ahead for Year 6

Next week, Y6 children across the country will be sitting their end of key stage assessment tests. We hope that their results will reflect the hard work they have put in throughout their time at both Middle Row School and now at Ark Brunel. Good luck!

Fund-raising for Nepal

Last Friday's non-uniform day raised £317.75 towards the appeal for Nepal. Thanks to everyone who took part and donated.

After-school clubs

We're pleased that this term's schedule of after-school clubs is now underway. We're glad that so many children have shown an interest in attending one of the clubs on offer. We understand that we need to try to expand our provision in this area in the future and hope we can do so in 2015/16. In the meantime, it was pasta and tomato sauce on the menu at cooking club this week!

Class visits

This week, Warwick Class has been out to work with Into University and Kings Class has been to St. John's Church, where the vicar showed them around the church and talked about the stained glass windows. The class have been making their own stained glass window as part of their learning.
